

Our Business

IrvingQ is a world-leading supplier of parachutes, aerial delivery systems and naval decoys to customers around the world. We create innovative products that our customers know they can rely on in highly challenging conditions where there are no second chances. Our systems must work right first time, every time. Do you want to be part of a collaborative and supportive team that helps customers achieve their goals through great engineering that stands out from the crowd?

We are currently recruiting for an Engineering Project Manager to join our Engineering team at Llangeinor, Bridgend, South Wales.

About the role:

The Engineering Project Manager is accountable for delivering projects, both internally funded and customer contracts, to time, cost and quality. You will be responsible for planning, organising, motivating, and leading the team to ensure delivery requirements are met to quality, cost, scope and schedule to the customer's satisfaction. Responsible for delivery of projects that span from pure R&D through to through-life Post Design Services (PDS) customer support.

The ideal candidate:

- 3 – 5+ years' project management experience
- An effective decision maker that exercises professional judgement and takes personal responsibility for the direction of projects and teams
- IT literate with project management and financial forecasting tools
- An inclusive, collaborative leader who will inspire others
- Adaptable and biased to action, solution focused and know how to get the best from the team.
- Keen to continue own professional development and to encourage others to do so
- Able to remain objective, acting with integrity and honesty at all times
- Able to hold a UK security clearance
- UK driving license

Advantageous skills and experience

- Experience in a regulated industry, such as defence, medical, automotive, etc
- Qualified to a recognised project management standard (e.g PRINCE2, PMI, APM)
- Proactive in the identification and capture of new business
- Comfortable working under pressure and with conflicting priorities
- Analytical approach to problem solving
- Valid passport
